Law Society Referral Service 2012 Lawyer Application

INFORMATION SUMMARY

Hundreds of people call the LSRS daily

The service has been matching lawyers with potential clients
since 1970

The service is promoted throughout Ontario on YellowPages.ca

Application

- To join the Law Society Referral Service (LSRS) please read this information summary, complete each section of the attached application form and send it to: The Law Society of Upper Canada, Law Society Referral Service, 130 Queen St. West, Toronto, Ontario M5H 2N6.

Membership fee

- Annual non refundable fee is $282.50 (taxes included). HST#121712863.
- The fee is applicable from January 1, 2012 to December 31, 2012.

As a member of the Law Society Referral Service you agree to:

- provide LSRS clients with an initial consultation of up to 30 minutes at no charge to determine if in fact a legal problem requiring a lawyer exists;
- tell clients what will be involved and the approximate cost required to remedy their particular situation, before you undertake any legal work on their behalf;
- complete and return the confirmation notice to LSRS within 90 days of initial client contact.

When clients call the LSRS:

- they are asked to briefly explain their legal issue. LSRS agents are trained to correctly define the various areas of law in order to make an appropriate referral. Agents do not provide legal advice or opinions to LSRS clients;
- referrals are made on a rotational basis, based on geography and area of law;
- clients are provided with the name and telephone number of a lawyer and are given a referral number to be given to the lawyer when contact is made;
- clients are advised that legal work is not covered by the free half-hour consultation.

Confirmation notices

- For every referral provided by LSRS, a confirmation notice will be faxed or mailed to the member.
- Information gathered from confirmation notices is kept strictly confidential. The statistics submitted assist the Law Society gauge the effectiveness of the service.
- LSRS reserves the right to remove members from the Law Society Referral Service for failure to return completed notices within 90 days.

Rules of membership

- You agree to accept all clients referred by the LSRS for an initial consultation of up to 1/2 hour, provided there is no conflict of interest and the referral is not otherwise deemed improper. Refer to the Law Society of Upper Canada's Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 2.04 for guidance in this matter.
- If you must decline a referral, please instruct the client to contact the Law Society Referral Service at 1-800-268-8326. A LSRS agent will provide a new referral to the client after making a quick confirmation call to you to verify the initial referral was declined.

Help us to help you; please advise LSRS if:

- you wish to make changes to your application;
- your practice information changes;
- you wish to be temporarily removed from the service (due to vacation, heavy workload, etc). You will need to provide the LSRS with written notice which must include the start and end date of your absence. Please note that temporary absences are non-refundable.

As a member of LSRS you will be removed from the service if you:

- cease to be a member in good standing with the Law Society of Upper Canada, (i.e., suspension, revocation).
- are participating, or have refused an invitation to participate, in the Practice Review.
- are under investigation by the Law Society of Upper Canada's investigation, discipline, audit or complaint's department.
- fail to update your practice information, address or telephone number.
- fail to complete and return LSRS confirmation notices within 90 days.
